

Society Chat of THE Week

ONE of the most enjoyable and unique affairs of the season was the "baby" dinner on Wednesday evening, at which Mrs. Frederick Klamp was hostess. Each of the guests was attired in a baby dress and the table centerpiece was a mound of toys. Dancing was enjoyed after dinner. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilder, Captain and Mrs. Sturges, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ross, Miss Carol Low, Miss Laura Low, Mr. George Fuller, Mr. Allison Jordan, Mr. George Torrey, Mr. Ernest Gay and Mr. and Mrs. Klamp.

Miss Mildred Turner Becomes the Bride of Mr. E. L. Loring.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized on Wednesday morning when Miss Mildred Turner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Turner and Mr. James Bishop Loring were married by the Reverend Whitaker of Ewa. The ceremony was performed under a canopy of green, white asters and trailing leils at the residence of the bride's parents on Vineyard street. The bride wore a traveling suit of white and a large white portrait hat. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Ethel Carter was maid of honor and wore a gown of yellow chiffon over satin and a large hat of a harmonizing shade. Mr. Loring was supported by Mr. J. O'Brien.

Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left in the Mauna Kea for Kohala where the honeymoon will be spent. Mr. and Mrs. Loring will receive their friends at Ewa after the middle of September.

Schroeder-Garke Wedding.

On Wednesday morning immediately after the arrival of the Honolulu, Miss Maria Garke and Mr. A. H. Schroeder were quietly married at St. Clement's by the Rev. F. C. Williams. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue serge, with a becoming hat of the same shade, and carried a bouquet of white roses and white satin ribbon. Only five friends of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony—Miss Florence Dietrich, who attended the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Spohler, relatives of the bridegroom.

Immediately after the wedding a delicious wedding breakfast was served at the Makiki street home of Mr. and Mrs. Spohler. The table was beautifully decorated in green and white. An artistic arrangement of white carnations and maidenhair ferns, was attached to the chandelier, and streamers of white satin ribbon were suspended to the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder have made their home in Kaimuki in the new bungalow which was furnished by Mr. Schroeder before the bride's return to Honolulu.

On Thursday afternoon Miss Marjorie Gilman was hostess at a five hundred party at the residence of Mrs. A. M. Brown at Waikiki. The guests were Mrs. Arthur Kice, Mrs. Sexton, Miss Moesman, Mrs. Riley Allen, Mrs. Alice Brown, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Unger and Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Whitte and Miss MacDonald of San Francisco were the complimentary guests at a poi luncheon yesterday at which Mrs. Charles Hall was hostess. The table centerpiece was of violets, and the hand-painted cards marking the places of the guests were decorated with the same flower. The guests included Miss MacDonald of Sacramento, Mrs. Whitte, Mrs. Harmon Anderson, Mrs. Kelley Brown, Mrs. Thelma Schuman, Miss Nina Craig, Mrs. Edna Bennett, Mrs. Bowler, Mrs. McCormack, Mrs. Chester Hunn and Miss Ruth Lindley.

Dance at Country Club.

The Oahu Country Club, which has been the scene of so many of the gay society functions this summer, was probably never more beautiful than on Monday night, when Mr. Vernon Tenney was hostess at a Yama Yama dance, given in honor of Mr. Ernest Gay.

The club laial was transformed into a veritable bower of green and gold, a color scheme most appropriate for the occasion. Masses of bamboo, ferns and vines were arranged through the club rooms, forming an effective background for the quantities of yellow snow balls that were grouped and festooned from the ceiling. The massive pillars wound with vines and snowballs caught up with yellow tulle completed the effect of brilliancy and betokened a knowledge of the decorative art in those having charge of the affair. Young men and maids alike were dressed in the Yama Yama costumes, and at first glance it was hard to tell them apart.

Mrs. Tenney, who is very original, chose something unusual for his mode of entertaining, and this was not only the first masquerade of the year, but was the first of its kind ever given in Honolulu. Among those present were Mr. Ernest Gay, the guest of honor; Miss Helen Wilder, Miss Rose Herbert, Miss Elinor Castle, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Miss Thelma Murphy, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Rosamond Swamy, Miss Elizabeth Carter, Miss Phoebe Carter, Miss Maye Biven, Miss Margaret Jones, Miss Catherine Jones, Miss Carol Low, Miss Laura Low, Miss Mary von Holt, Miss Helen Spalding, Miss Dorothy Wood, Miss Ernestine McNear, Miss Elolae Wichman, Miss Violet Stoeber, Miss Edith Williams, Miss Fanny Hoogs, Miss Alice Hoogs, Miss Margaret Center, Miss Margaret Restarick, Miss Lucy Dimond, Miss Kate Lidgate, Miss Carrie McLain, Miss Helen McLain, Miss Lady Macfarlane, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Zepha Fischel, Miss Martha
